A Force for Good

At IICF UK, we believe the insurance industry can be a force for good—creating better futures for young people and advancing social mobility across the UK.

By bringing organisations together through grants, volunteering and community leadership, we help open up access to education, skills and employment opportunities for those who need it most.

Working with our network of corporate and charity partners, we also help connect diverse talent with the industry—supporting the development of a more inclusive and socially responsible sector.

The Difference Your Support Makes

Together with our 24 corporate partners, IICF UK has raised over £3 million, supporting 8,000+ people through grants to 41 charities across the UK.

Every Gala guest, sponsor and auction contribution plays a vital role in creating opportunities for less-advantaged young people.

Funds raised through the Gala can help to:

- Provide 1,000 books, giving hundreds of children the gift of literacy
- Enable 50 high-school students at risk of exclusion to access mentoring (65% more likely to stay in education)
- Support a young person to complete the year-long Key4Life programme, helping them transition into employment
